

STREAM Science, Technology, Religion Engineering, Art, Mathematics

REVISED AUGUST 28, 2019

Dear Parents,

We would like to start a once a month STREAM program that is totally voluntary. We would be sending home a simple STREAM challenge for your children. Those children who want to participate will benefit from doing a project at home with their family and when they bring it to school they will receive participation rewards (pencils, erasers, candy, coupons, etc.) and most importantly the intrinsic value of participating and completing the project and sharing with their friends. These can be brought in anytime during the month and the more creative the better. These projects will be displayed on the first floor for everyone to enjoy. We will include the STREAM challenge in their take-home folder at the first of each month.

We feel this would be a fun way to create more excitement about our new program and include more students.

More information to come, first one starts in SEPTEMBER.

Best regards,
