DIRECTIONS FOR NON-TRADITIONAL INSTRUCTION

Hello ... Hola ... Evan, Logan, Reign, Mena, Isaac!

Hello ... Hola ... Carter, Ryleigh, Chase, Emily, Caitlin!

¿Como estan ustedes? ¿Bien? ¿Bendicidos? I sure do miss you all!

Thanks for your understanding and patience in getting instruction and assignments for Spanish up and going. I've been pulled in a number of directions with many things that have needed my attention. I am glad that we are back to class! Digitally at least! Let me go through a few things with you.

FIRST. Please send me an email at agarner@cdlex.org and in your email include a contact number that is best to reach you.

SECOND. We will be using video instruction from ¿Que hora es? In the series you will meet Dr. Danny Evans. He is very engaging in his approach. The first videos will be a review of several things we have already covered. This review is good for all of us! It helps us to remember.

THIRD. On the Spanish page of the school website, I will make two postings each week. Each posting will include a link to a video lesson, printable handouts, and a "quizlet". (That's to help calm Mena's nerves about using the term "test" or "exam".) You will need to complete the "quizlets" and email your responses to me. That means that each week (until resume in-person classes) you will have two assignments/quizlets to send to me by Friday afternoon.

FOURTH. Once a week (for now, we may move to twice a week), I will do a Zoom meeting with you. I'll try to make it about the same time we would usually meet for in-person classes.

FIFTH. If you have questions at any point, please call me at 606.329.1607!

Many thanks for your flexibility! Let's learn! Stay calm. Stay connected. Stay committed. Stay the course. We're learning new things together in the midst of all of this!
